

MERSC ALERT

MIDDLE EAST REGION STAFF COLLEGE

Here is your opportunity to learn more about CAP operations at the Wing level and above. Practice rapid-fire decision making that requires quick thinking, group collaboration, and consensus building.

Senior Members:

Earn credit toward Level IV of the CAP Senior Member Professional Development Program and have fun at the same time. Through hands-on exercises you will feel the satisfaction of learning interpersonal communications, leadership, management, and training techniques, and return to your daily and CAP life ready to tackle anything!

By attending this week-long learning event you will be working toward your Garber Award, needed for promotion to Lt Col. But more importantly, you'll strengthen your knowledge of and commitment to the Civil Air Patrol. You'll work with a team on interesting tasks taken straight out of the experiences of some of CAP's best leaders. Learn to motivate someone who isn't pulling their weight and says, "You can't expect more from a bunch of volunteers!" Learn to quickly find your way in and out of CAP's myriad regulations to find the best solution to every situation that might arise.

MERSC is held at beautiful McDaniel College in Westminster, MD, 5-12 June 2010, at a very reasonable cost that covers tuition, lodging, and meals.

Discounted cost thru 31-DEC-09	$300
Regular cost 1-JAN-10 to 31-MAR-10	$345
Late cost 1-APR-10 to 30-APR-10	$390

Sign up with a CAPF 17, approved through your chain of command, and forward with full payment to Maj Tim Gleaton, MERSC 2010 Tasking Officer, 1118 Pepper Ridge Dr., Lugoff SC, 29078. (No payments will be accepted at the college.) Questions? Contact the Director, Lt Col NANCY GLEATON (nancy@gleaton.org), or the Deputy Director, Lt Col PAUL MEADE (pmeade@clearpoint-health.com). Visit our web site at www.mer-rsc.org for more information. You must meet the requirements of CAPR 50-17 in order to apply. No waivers.

Learn Dining Out Protocol
Want to impress everyone with your knowledge of military "Do's and Don'ts" ? Come to MERSC!