

BEHAVIOR AND Demeanor

We are the guests of McDaniel College and are representing the Civil Air Patrol. Appropriate attitudes, behavior, and dress are expected at all times.

During daily activities, students are asked to limit the use of cell phones and pagers; it is preferred they be turned off. You are here to participate and learn. If your business, employer, or colleagues need you frequently, then you probably need to be with them instead of at the College. Frequent cell phone interruptions are a distraction to you and your fellow students. Staff observers will be taking note of any student who appears to abuse this policy.

In case of an emergency, the Director's cell phone number is available to family members or employers. Her number is 803-210-6181. During sessions in which there may be a guest lecturer, devices such as cell phones, pagers, laptops, PDA's, etc., are strictly prohibited. If brought to class, they must remain turned off. These guests deserve your full attention, as they are giving their time for your benefit.

During scheduled daily sessions, students may not leave the campus and must be in the assigned activity area. In the event of an emergency, please notify the Commandant of Students immediately so accommodations can be made. The Director of MER-RSC is responsible for the well-being of each student and must be notified of an emergency or give permission to leave campus.
